ON A TECHNICALITY.

From the Court Records, and Discharges the Defendants-The Grand Jury Will Now

Criminal Court this morning, Judge Cox rendered a decision in the Star Route cases, discussing principally the question as to the infamy of the crime charged The conclusion arrived at was that the crime was infamous, and the accused dictment. He therefore sustained the mo-tion expelling the information from the files of the Court, and ordered the discharge of the defendants.

After the rendering of Judge Cox's de cision, Mr. Cook said it was deemed proper that he should make a statement which had been purposely delayed till this time, with reference to the fact that the cas against Thomas J. Brady and others had not been presented to the grand jury. His Honor's decision having been rendered, it was due to the public, to himself as special attorney for the United States, to his colleagues and associates, and to the superior officers of the Government, to superior officers of the Government, to state openly and more fully than has been done, why the more common course had been pursued, and why information had been filed. The assassination of the President occurred on the morning of the 2d of July. On the Monday previous, at the President's request, he had a conversation at the White House in regard to the Star Route case. After a full explanation, the President-expressed himself as fully satisfied with what had been done, but urged that the cases be pushed as rapidly as possible. It was then his (Cook's) intention to complete the necessary preparations and sible. It was then his (Cook's) intention to complete the necessary preparations and present the cases to the grand jury at its meeting in September.

On the Saturday following the Nation and civilized world was shocked by the announcement that Jas. A. Garfield was assasinated, All labor as a consequence had been suspended. Weeks of intense anxiety (Cloud, The present President Assets) sassinated. All labor as a consequence had been suspended. Weeks of intense anxlety followed. The present President, Arthur, Attorney General, Postmaster General, in brief, all the Cabinet had been overcome with grief, almost paralyzed. Sorrow and trembling had been in all hearts. The Nation, the world had wept, feared, hoped and prayed. The employes engaged in the investigation of the records of the postofilee and the procurement of wincesses, had been able to do little effective work. With what propriety under the circumstances could it have been done by any one? It had only been when the President lingered and the physicians gave strong hopes of his recovery that labor had been fully resumed. The delay has been primarily and chiefly caused by the assassin's bullet. It has been an unavoidable delay of the investigation. Several consultations had been held at Elberon, from which he (Cook) returned on the eleventh of September, so as to be grand jury could have been reassembled. It had been adjourned from the 14th of September until the 3rd of October. It only remained in session two days only remained in session two days, with-out any arrangement for reassembling. The recess had been absolute. When he had first heard it in this Court on Monday last, one of the chief members of the Grand Jury had been out of the district—perhaps others. been out of the district—perhaps others. At the Postoffice Department the effect of Judge Cox's decision is much discussed. High officials assert that the effect is misunderstood. It is claimed that the Government is debarred from proceeding by indictment in the Walsh cases, but the Postoffice authorities deny this. They say that the fact that proceedings by information having been commenced satisfies us of the requirements of the statute of limitation, even though the proceeding has been thrown out on a technicality. In addition it is alleged that there are grounds for RICHMOND, November 10.—Returns from eighty counties and cities, covering over two-thirds of the State, make Cameron's (Readjuster) majority so far about 1,500. Thirty-two counties yet to hear from will not reach 10,000, and may fail much lower. The Readjusters, however, still claim that Cameron's majority will not be less than 12,000. The Legislature, according to the best estimates that can be made, now stands: Readjusters 57, Democrats 43. Senate: Readjusters 22, Democrats 18. Majority for Readjusters on joint ballot, 18.

RICHOND, VA., November 10.—The Dis-path (Dem.) concedes Cameron's election by 5,000 to 6,000 majority, and summarizes the legislative result as follows: Senate— Democrats, 17; Readjusters, 23. House— Democrats, 42; Readjusters, 55; doubtful, 3. This would give the Readjusters nine-teen majority on joint ballot, without counting the three doubtful ones.
